

2015 marks the 25th anniversary of WayForward, the developer behind Shantae, Mighty Switch Force, and the Adventure Time 3DS titles, and with that, the company's giving some pretty hefty discounts on its own games-- ranging from 25 to 75 percent!

Releases

Wii U eShop

- Trine Enchanted Edition – $14.99
- Don't Touch Anything Red – $1.79
- My Style Studio: Notebook – 2.99

Wii U Virtual Console

- F-Zero: GP Legend – $6.99 – The oft forgotten F-Zero game based off an anime of the same name and a developer of a different one, Suzak. It separated itself from the classic tone of past F-Zero games with a different artistic angle, narrative shifting, and overall oddities.

3DS eShop/Retail

- 3D Out Run – $5.99 – Bringing back the classics with a firm foot on the ground once again. Outrun was once a game that was truly a vibrant display of what graphical prowess should look like. Now it's back to make the same claim with its now "retro" look and thanks to the 3DS, the addition of another dimension. It also packs in a special mode featuring new tracks, every one with the intense driving we've come to expect and love.
- 50 PINCH BARRAGE!! – $2.99
- Monster Combine TD – $3.99
- Music On: Electric Guitar – $1.99
- Shanghai Mahjong – $7.99
- Code Name: S.T.E.A.M. – $39.99 – Intelligent Systems and Nintendo SPD are back with another game they hope enriches itself in the ever-growing 3DS library. With absurdity stretching from start to finish, American literature being utilized as weaponry against aliens, and Abraham Lincoln, the game aims to bring ridiculousness to a level never thought of.
